

October 29, 2013
2:30-4:30 PM
Brew and Review

Brunswick Heritage Museum
40 West Potomac Street
Brunswick, MD 21716

This is the next in a series of Peer Review events organized by MAHM to bring Maryland museum professionals together for a lively discussion on important topics in the field.

This Brew & Review will be a discussion about the “Pints & the Past” program run by the Historical Society of Frederick. “Pints & the Past” is a free series for anyone interested in getting together to chat about history. This creative means of engaging audiences in history is part of a larger trend in the field and should be fodder for good discussion!

Come brew and review the “Pints & the Past” program with Kristen Butler from the Historical Society of Frederick County and Rebecca O’Leary from the Brunswick Heritage Museum.

Also, while visiting, check out the Brunswick Heritage Museum’s new exhibit: “Tipplers and Teetotalers in a Railroad Town”

A MAHM SPONSORED PROGRAM